May 2017 Newsletter

With the month of May come many things. May in Salina brings “Project Salina.” In 1990, two Salina philanthropists Jane Kramer and Jack Parr noticed something. They noticed Salina ministries who attended to the needy had empty shelves in June. As they investigated, they learned that this was typical. Historically, during the holiday season, many food donations were received allowing the shelves to be fully stocked. However, as the year progressed, donations did not keep pace with the need. When summer arrived local ministries were continually in a desperate condition until donations began flowing again in the fall. Jack and Jane decided to let the business community know of this need resulting in “Project Salina.” Since its inception in 1990, Project has grown from 56 thousand food items collected to 246 thousand food items in 2016. These food donations are distributed to Ashby House, Salina Rescue Mission, DVAK, Emergency Aid Food Bank, and Salvation Army. Salina Concrete is participating again and would invite you to join us collect canned vegetables this May. A collection box is situated by the front door to receive all donations until May 31 when all donations will be delivered.

In recent years we at SCP have noticed an increased demand for Hardscape Products in the charcoal color. For a number of years these products were produced on a special order basis with a signed production order. Last season, Matryx L was produced in a stocking quantity in the charcoal color and was well received. This spring the Charcoal color will also be available as a stocked item in Matryx as well. We anticipate Matryx Charcoal to be available for SCP customers between the end of May to the first of June.

As always, we thank you for your business and continued support.

Best regards,

Peter Browning
