September 2017 Newsletter

With shortening days and cool mornings the month of September shows the first signs that the fall season is upon us. They are a reminder that we all could be pushing snow in the near future.

With this season change ranchers begin moving their cattle out of pastures and into feed lots. For decades Salina Concrete Products (SCP) has produced feed bunks for ranchers who feed cattle through the winter months. Customers have two choices with either the Lazy J (8' long 1,600 lbs. ea.) or Straight J (8' long 3,200 lbs. ea.). Another service SCP provides is delivery & setting where needed with rear mounted forklifts. The SCP fleet can deliver 192' per load of the Lazy J's and 96' per load of the straight J Bunks.

Through the years and for a variety of reasons SCP has built up a supply of hollow metal doors that are not sellable as standard inventory. All have unique defects that have caused them to be set aside. For some it is a dent, others have a scratch, and others have an issue with a hinge preparation. Whatever the case may be SCP has multiple doors that are still functional and available at heavily discounted prices. If you have an interest in reviewing this inventory please feel free to come in and review options. Doors in both the 3'0" 6'8" and 3'0" 7'0" sizes are available.

Please remember that next month on Friday, October 6, SCP will be hosting a celebration for Doug McCullick's years of service. Please come to the office during the 3:00-5:00 time frame for cake, coffee, and snacks. Doug will be on hand to greet all and reminisce over a career well done.

As was mentioned in last month's Newsletters SCP is still looking to hire a Sales Representative. If you know of someone who has a background in construction, sales experience, and strong people skills please let them know SCP is looking for good candidates.

As always, we thank you for your continued business and support!

Best Regards,

Peter Browning
