January 2018 Newsletter

The first minute of January brings incredible celebration throughout the world. During this celebration it is customary for people to lock arms, and heartily sing “Auld Lang Syne” as they rock back and forth. You may ask, “How did this get started?” or “What is an Auld Lang Syne?” This ancient Scottish song could be better translated in today’s English as, “Days gone by.” The lyrics were recorded as a poem by Robert Burns in 1788 from an “old man” he had met. The poem was later set to music and evolved into the song we know today. It became a custom for Scottish people to sing this nostalgic song at events such as New Years and funerals. As this people group left their homeland, they took this treasured custom with them throughout the world. As a result people by the millions celebrate this custom saying goodbye to the past and hoping for the future.

We at Salina Concrete Products (SCP) find ourselves in a period of “Auld Lang Syne.” We are disappointed to announce that Kate Stufflebeam and Brandon Martinez are leaving. They will certainly be missed. Our emotions are mixed in that we are also excited about SCP’s future with two new additions. Greg Lackey will be taking on the role of Outside Sales and Danny Wilson the role of Sales Coordinator.

Greg Lackey comes to SCP with a 23 year track record of owning and operating Lackey Landscape in Hutchinson. During his time of operation Greg developed a reputation for the ability to design and build high quality hardscape projects. Greg will be stationed out of Hutchinson and will be covering central and western Kansas. Greg graduated from Emporia State and has a passion for the outdoors.

Danny Wilson joins the SCP team with a background in the pharmaceutical industry. He grew up in a family that ran a cow/calf operation. He also started and ran a successful landscaping business for several years in Manhattan. Danny graduated from Kansas State and was a pitcher on the KSU baseball team. Danny enjoys hunting, fishing, and time in the outdoors as well.

We at SCP are thankful for our time with Kate and Brandon, and we are excited about the future with Greg and Danny. We consider both within the nostalgic spirit of “Auld Lang Syne.” Please feel free to call or stop by the office to meet Danny. If Greg can be of service to you he can be reached on his mobile at (620)960-2027.

As always we thank you for your continued business and support!

Best Regards,

Peter Browning
